

GEORGETOWN LAW

Can Black and Brown Banks Compete in a Digital Economy? Tuesday, June 15, 2021

A forum Co-sponsored by Georgetown Law and the Black Economic Alliance, with the Brookings Institution as Knowledge Partner

In Commemoration of Juneteenth

1:00pm	Welcome Remarks from Chair Cecilia Rouse , Chair, Council of Economic Advisors, Executive Office of the President
1:10pm	Fireside Chat with Comptroller Michael Hsu , Acting Comptroller of the Currency, Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC)
1:25pm	Panel One: CDFIs, COVID and the Challenges of the Digital Economy Moderator: David G. Clunie , Executive Director, Black Economic Alliance Aurelio Aleman-Bermudez , CEO, First Bancorp/Puerto Rico Everett Sands , CEO, Lendistry Noel Andrés Poyo , Deputy Assistant Secretary for Community Economic Development, Office of Domestic Finance, U.S. Department of the Treasury Marla Blow , President and CEO, Skoll Foundation
1:55pm	Fireside Chat with John W. Rogers, Jr. , Chairman, Co-CEO and CIO, Ariel Investments, and Robert Smith , Founder and CEO, Vista Equity Partners

GEORGETOWN LAW

2:15pm	Remarks from Senator Sherrod Brown , Chairman, Senate Banking Committee
2:25pm	Panel Two: Technology as Solution and Barrier Moderator: Aaron Klein , Senior Fellow, Economic Studies, Brookings Dominique Harrison , Director, Technology Policy Program, Joint Center for Political and Economic Studies Kayla M. Sanders , Founder and Chief Executive Officer, Remy Manuel P. Alvarez , Commissioner, California Department of Business Oversight, Department of Financial Protection and Innovation Melissa Koide , CEO and Director, FinRegLab
2:50pm	Remarks from Congresswoman Maxine Waters , Chairwoman, House Financial Services Committee
3:00pm	Fireside Chat with The Honorable Jelena McWilliams , Chairman, Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation
3:15pm	Concluding Remarks from Senator Mark Warner , Chairman, Senate Intelligence Committee